

Effective searching for palliative care literature

CareSearch is offering a free workshop for palliative care clinicians who wish to develop their awareness of the major sources of quality palliative care evidence while building their skills and confidence in online database searching.

Workshop outline

- Major bibliographic databases for palliative care literature searching
- Where and how to access them
- Searching tips that work across databases
- 'Search filters' and shortcuts to the palliative care literature
- Finding free full text articles

Research study component to the workshop

All workshop attendees are required to participate in a short search task and questionnaire as part of a CareSearch research study. This study will help us understand how clinicians construct simple searches for palliative care literature. It will also inform the development of an online training module.

Workshop features

- Run by CareSearch health librarians with expertise in 'finding the evidence'
- Certificate of Attendance as a record of CPD hours
- Presentation and hands-on format
- Resource materials to take away
- Morning or afternoon tea provided
